Monthly Movie Series-Babette's Feast

January 21 @ 6:45 pm - 9:00 pm

Babette's Feast is the favorite film of Pope Francis, on the Vatican's Top 15 films list in the religion category and won the Oscar for Best Foreign Film. It is the story of two Protestant sisters who take in a young Parisian refugee, Babette, to work as housekeeper and cook in their Denmark home. The sisters are aging spinsters, and they—like others in their small town on the desolate coast of Jutland—belong to a rigid puritanical sect which emphasizes stern simplicity. The French chef is grateful for their hospitality, and when Babette learns that she has won a lottery back in her native Paris, she doesn't use her winnings to return home. Instead, she spends her windfall on a celebratory banquet, a sumptuous eight-course meal, to surprise the dwindling Danish community. The townspeople, accustomed to plain clothing and plain food, are at first scandalized by the many colorful ingredients in Babette's feast, and resolve that they will not enjoy the "satanic Sabbath" which she sets before them. But as they taste first one culinary delight, then another, they are softened. Little by little, the room is filled with conversation and laughter as the townspeople are transformed by the tasty meal.

What is Pope Francis' take on this movie? Consider this from his recent apostolic exhortation, Amoris Laetitia (likely the first film specifically mentioned in a magisterial document): The most intense joys in life arise when we are able to elicit joy in others, as a foretaste of heaven. We can think of the lovely scene in the film Babette's Feast, when the generous cook receives a grateful hug and praise: "Ah, how you will delight the angels!" It is a joy and a great consolation to bring delight to others, to see them enjoying themselves. This joy, the fruit of fraternal love, is not that of the vain and self-centered, but of lovers who delight in the good of those whom they love, who give freely to them and thus bear good fruit.

Catholic film reviewer Deacon Steven Greydanus gives the film an A+ and he ends his review this way: In the end, Babette's Feast is a quiet celebration of the divine grace that meets us at every turn, and even redeems our ways not taken, our sacrifices and losses. Whatever we think has been given up or lost, God gives back in greater abundance, one way or another. It may not be till heaven that we truly become all that he intends; but his grace is here and now, whatever our circumstances, and with him all things are possible.

While there is no problematic content to speak of, the film will probably not hold the interest of young children.
